

Baron Katranski of Underbank stud phoned me this afternoon 31 July as his insurance broker told him if they were to insure him that he would need to have Toe Stoppers for his riding school camp or all riders needed to have a heeled boot.

Most riders that go to Trail rides or riding schools do not have heeled boots which do not prevent riders being dragged anyway.

So they either have to have a heap of different size riding boots which would be an absolute nightmare and if they get wet the next lot of kids would have to wear wet boots or they could have Toe Stoppers on all of their irons which is affordable and easy.

Baron wanted to buy 15 pairs. I have asked Baron for the contact details of his broker.

Barons insurance underwriter is Loyds of London these are the same underwriters that the Australian Pony Club use for their insurance.
