

Dragging incident report----

Colin Gibson 26/04/04

I recently purchased some Toe Stoppers from you for my Icelandic horse Flikka.

I had fallen off her the week before and found myself on the ground with my foot still in the stirrup.

To my great embarrassment on my first trip out with the Toe Stoppers she shied and I fell off but my foot came out of the stirrup.

I ride out a lot by myself often in a forest where there are few people around.

I feel a lot safer knowing that if I fall off I shall be sitting in the mud rather than being dragged behind my horse!

Also I find Toe Stoppers comfortable and they keep my feet in the right position.

I am very impressed with the product.

Best wishes,
